

The town of Carcross lies between Nares and Bennett Lake. The two lakes are connected by a small river which divides and separates a portion of the town. The existing pedestrian bridge was in disrepair and the community was forced to use the train tracks as a means of crossing the divide between the town. Kobayashi + Zedda Architects and Earth Tech worked closely with the community to enhance the existing design of the bridge while creating a safe and beautiful crossing point on the shores of Lake Bennett.
