

For this interior design project on the ground floor of New Cambodia, Kobayashi + Zedda Architects and its partner company ZEKO Design Build served as the designer, developer and general contractor.

With a minimal budget, the interior design allowed for a reception area, meeting room, three private offices and an open concept workstation area. The programme brief also required to provide natural daylight for occupants during working hours.

WOMEN'S DIRECTORATE

WHITEHORSE, YUKON